CHOOSING THE CORRECT CUPOLA SIZE

A properly fitted cupola is essential for a cupola to look right on your building. When trying to figure out what size you need, we use a guide of a minimum of 1.25" for every foot of unbroken roof ridge line.

For example: if your unbroken roof ridge line measures 24', the minimum size of your cupola should be 30". For a roof ridge line length 48' and longer, you may want to consider using 2 or 3 cupolas.

- Cupola size is derived from the measurement of the base width.
- Extended bases are available for steeper pitched roofs.
- Cupolas come in 2 or 3 sections for easier shipping and installation.
- All louvered cupolas can provide ventilation for your structure.
- Windows are removable for ease of installing a light fixture.
- 60" & 72" cupolas come standard with double mid-sections.
- Custom styles and sizes are available.

ROYAL VISION

Are you struggling to figure out what size or how many cupolas you'll need for your building? Try our Royal Vision program found on our website. You can choose your roof pitch, building size and the length of the roof line. This program will help you envision exactly what the cupola will look like on your size building.
